Re: United States v. Sharma, et al.,
Case No. 18-CR-340 (LGS)

Your Honor,

Dear Judge Schofield,

The Defendant, Robert Farkas, with the consent of counsel for the Government, respectfully requests permission to conduct his sentencing remotely and to supplement the record with a brief video submission recorded by his immediate family. These requests are necessitated by the ongoing Covid-19 pandemic.

Mr. Farkas is scheduled for sentencing on December 15, 2020. He was arrested on April 1, 2018, indicted on May 14, 2018, and pleaded guilty on June 16, 2020. Mr. Farkas resides in Florida, and since his release on bail, he has abided by stringent release conditions including home confinement with electronic monitoring.<sup>1</sup> Mr. Farkas' proceedings have been impacted by the pandemic for the past year and the parties desire to proceed with sentencing as it is presently scheduled.

The United States now appears to be experiencing a drastic spike in the exponential community spread of the Covid-19 virus nationwide. Mr. Farkas' family resides in Florida and New Jersey, undersigned counsel resides in Florida, and co-counsel resides in California.

New York, Florida, New Jersey, and California are among the hardest hit states. Mr. Farkas' New York counsel is presently quarantined due to exposure to the virus and his Florida counsel was quarantined earlier this month. New York City schools are now closed.

Given that in-court proceedings could be potentially suspended and the difficulties and risks associated with travel to New York for court by Mr. Farkas, his counsel, and his immediate family, even if in-court proceedings remain permissible, Mr. Farkas, with the consent of the government, is seeking two accommodations. First, Mr. Farkas respectfully requests that he be permitted to conduct his sentencing hearing remotely via video.

Given the foregoing, Mr. Farkas also requests that he be permitted to supplement his sentencing submissions with a brief sentencing video recorded by Mr. Farkas' immediate family. To be sure, and were these normal times, Mr. Farkas' family would be present with him in Your Honor's courtroom at his sentencing hearing. You would be able to observe his immediate family and hear from them in person if you so desired. Indeed, to the extent that Mr. Farkas' family background is intertwined with his own personal history and characteristics, they are an integral component of this Court's sentencing mandate.

Unfortunately, the ongoing pandemic will likely prevent Mr. Farkas' family from attending court in person and the Court will not be able to observe them as it would normally. Indeed, even were the Court to agree to allow Mr. Farkas and his counsel to participate by video remotely, his family will be not be present. Accordingly, Mr. Farkas respectfully requests that this Court accept a brief video submission from his family in his support. Video submissions have been filed in support of sentencing. See United States v. Sant Chatwal, Case No. 14-CR-143, ECF No. 25 (E.D.N.Y. November 5, 2015); United States v. Randy Rivera, Case No. 13-CR-00006, ECF No. 83 (D. VT. February 18, 2014); United States v. Don Ayala, Case No. 08-CR-00474 (D. VA. May 8, 2009); United States v. Robert Rosploch, Case No. 12-CR-00021, (D. VT. January 10, 2013).

Counsel for the Government does not oppose the request for a remote sentencing provided the defendant makes a sufficient showing under the Cares Act for doing so. Further, the Government takes no position on the defense request to submit a video from Mr. Farkas's family in support of Mr. Farkas's sentencing.

Sincerely,

s/ Paul Petruzzi
